

Heyday

Today's another chance to stack healing [higher than the blood I've drawn]; to bend lower than my [feather] bed.

One more day.

To put legs on my grief.

To boil beefs into broth.

To carry others to the soup line and mince [more than words] to fill bellies.